LAR, Seven Years After

LAR

- ✓ Family Enrichment courses are a dynamic and very useful tool .
- ✓ Parents helping other parents to raise their kids.

Why is it Enriching?

- System based on the Case Method
- Popular in business schools.
- Debate common situations of family life with people from different origins with different experiences.
- Diversity is the main source of richness.

How to become professional Fathers and Mothers?

Through the case method they learn:

- Intellectual training.
- Practical training.
- Attitudes & Skills.

“Knowing is Important.

Knowing How is Indispensable.

Wanting To is a Determining factor to success!”

There is no model, each family is unique.

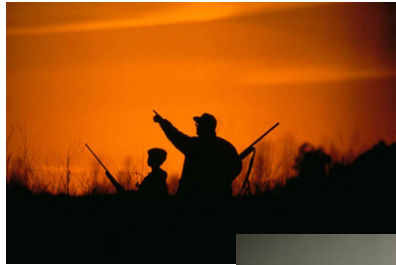

Why Case Method?

- Being a parent is learnt, not taught.
- Exchanging personal positive and negative experiences with other parents is more effective than the best conference.

The Role of the Father

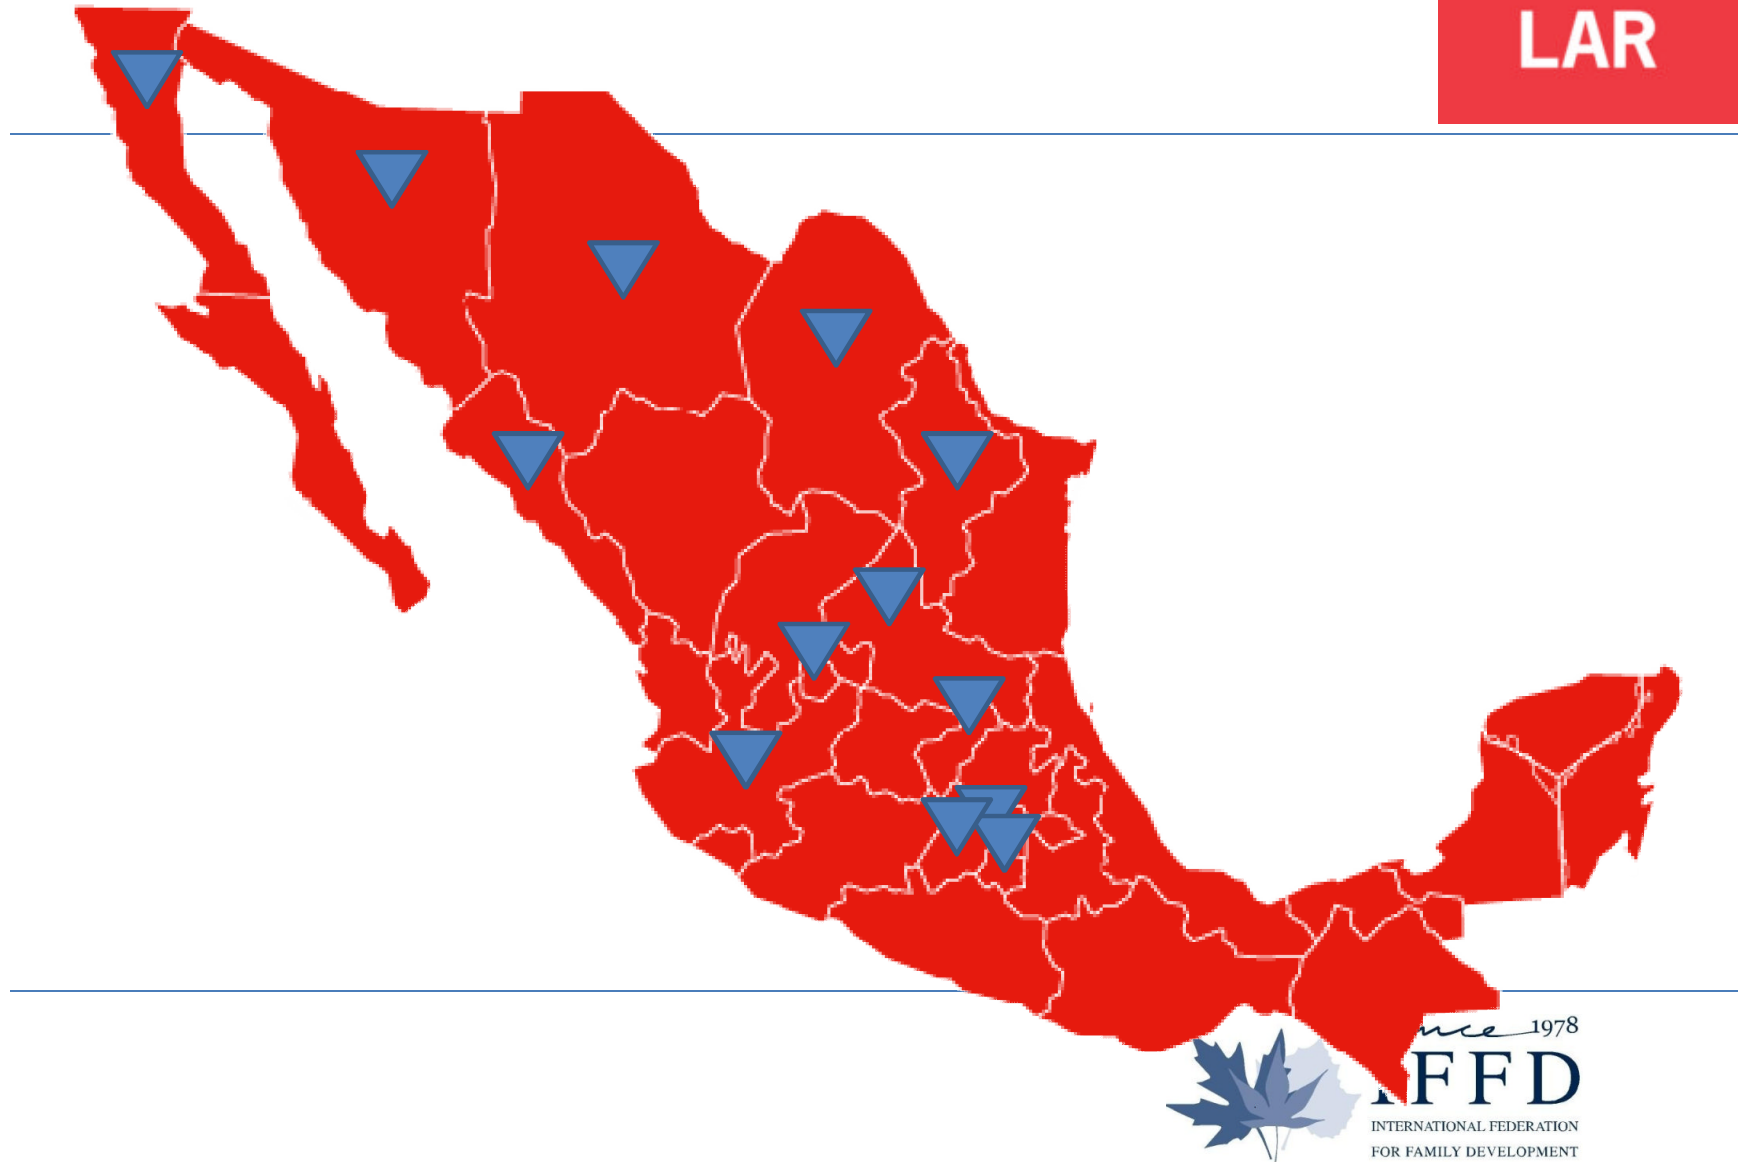

- Dads are getting more involved in their children's education.

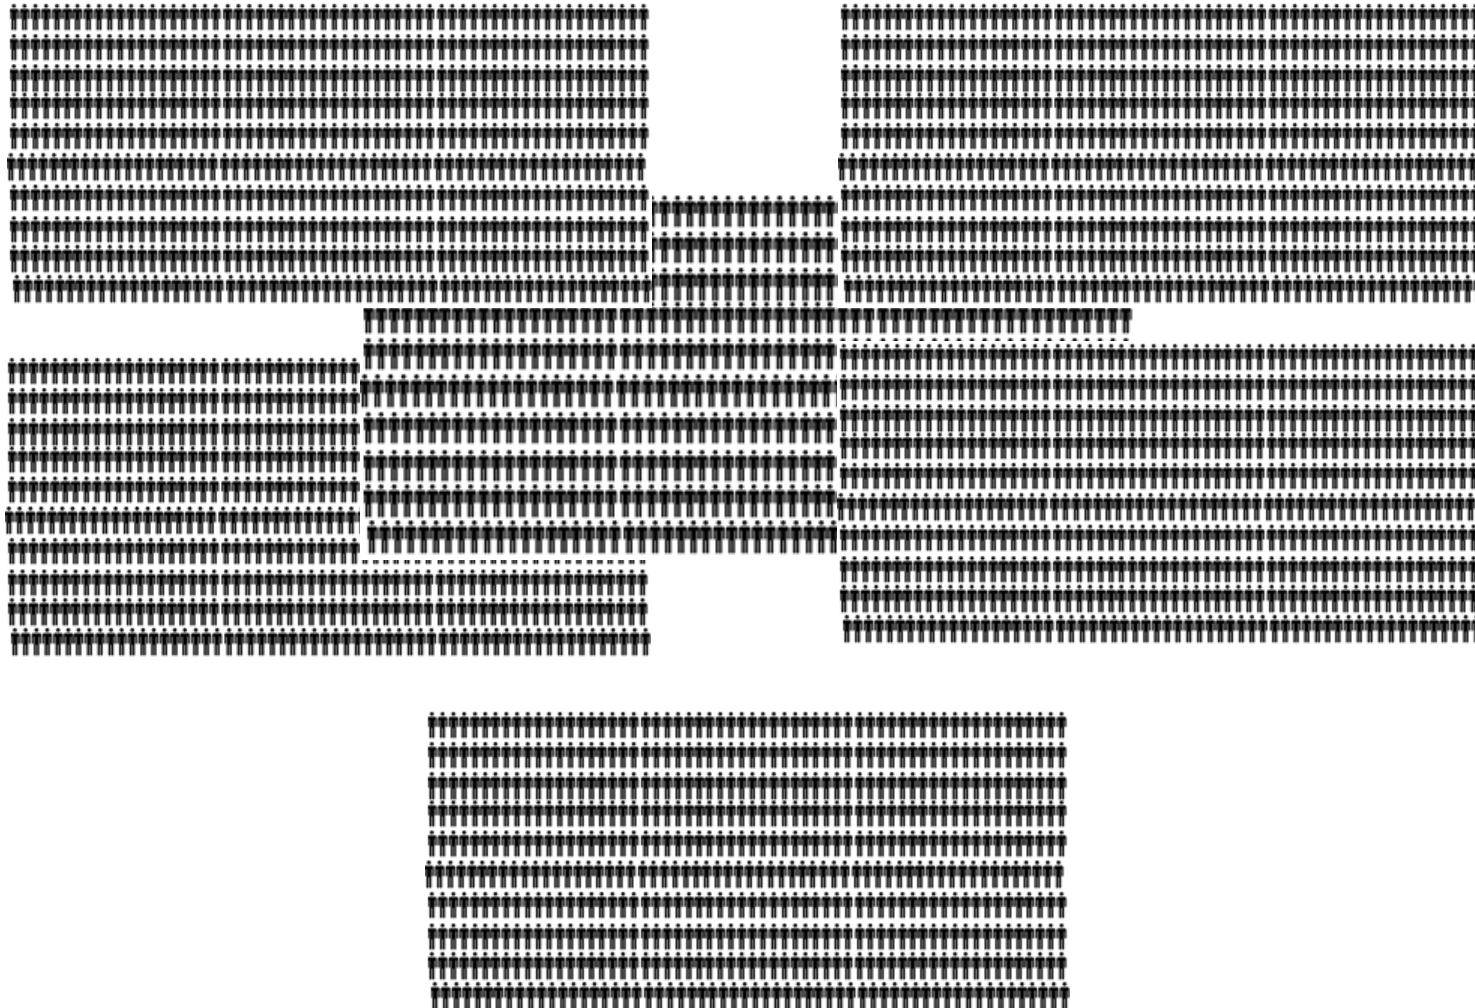

- Family life improves from the very beginning.

Inter-Generational Integration

Our courses help to integrate families, there are courses for couples with little kids, then through all the stages of their development, and even for Grandparents.

Inter-Generational Integration

Also, our cases for study involve situations with not just the couple and their children, but the relations and interaction with the rest of the family.

Inter-Generational Integration

Each generation has its own distinct and unique contribution to the good of the family. Every member is enriched precisely in that varied contribution.

Inter-Generational Integration

- We know that a person's life is particularly vulnerable at its beginning and at its end.
- A society that cares for its citizens will protect its weak members, and the most effective way of doing so is by strengthening the families that constitute it.

“It is undeniable that family happiness is irreplaceable. It is synonymous of inner peace, of being sheltered. Whoever loses family happiness may experience the inner peace of a truce, but not more than that”.

Elizabeth Lucas, Happiness in the Family

Our courses present real life situations where members of different generations interact.

LAR

Through the discussion of these situations, each couple thinks of and comes up with different solutions or ideas to enhance family life.
